THE orange blossom season on which society will ring up its certain this autumn promises more than a passing interest. The wedding almost without exception of a kind in which rather than worldly prospects or twentieth century ambition seems to have had most to do, a condition which shows that the world hereabouts is not the social kind after all, and that human nature in its attachments yet remains the story-book, romantic kind. The engagement of Miss Gladys Vanderbilt to Count Laszlo Schechenyi (pronounced as if spelled Sa-cha-nye, with the accent on the first syllable) was the excitement of the past week and is of personal interest here, where the young lady spent a very happy winter once playing around McPherson square. The count, who is said to be a delightful type of the Hungarian nobleman, is a good sportman and has a large fortune, the figures of which are not, however, as easily reached as the knowledge of the Vanderbilt billions. The count is in his twenty-eighth year, a court chamberlain and a lieutenant in the Reserves. He seems to have been very assiduous in his attentions and had the pleasure of entertaining on his estate at Horpasch, Hungary, Mrs. and Miss Vanderbilt last summer. The future countess greatly resembles her mother and has a garet Lawton and Anna L. Werner of Baltimore, all of whom returned by the early morning train.

Miss Johnson of Gresham place and her little daughter Ethel have returned from a delightful trip in the south. On their return home they visited the Jamestown exposition, Norfolk and Newport News.

Miss Frances Youngblood has returned from a visit to the Jamestown exposition and Newport News and will be pleased to see her friends at her new home, 1740 P street northwest.

Mrs. M. Wagner of Portland, Ore., and her daughter, Miss Dorothy, and sister, Bernhard, have come to spend the winter in this city. The daughter will attend a private school. Miss Wagner, who is a prominent banker in Portland, will arrive in the city next week. They have an apartment at the Alhambra.

Of the debutantes of the coming season there will be none likely to enjoy more of the distinction of belatedness than Miss Eleanor Ridgely, Miss Grace Jarvis and Miss Constance Hoyt. Miss Eleanor Ridgely, who will be maid of honor at the wedding this month of her sister, Miss Catherine Cullom Ridgely, and Mr. Phelps Brown, had a finishing course to her education last year in Europe, which she spent in leisurely travel, with her aunt, Miss Grace Jarvis was also abroad last year under the chaperonage of the Baroness von Ketteler, who is now at Mrs. McMillan's place, Eagle Rowan and Ruby Thurmond, all of Dallas, who entered the seminary.

Mrs. Chambers of Portland, Ore., and her daughter, who have been the guests of Mrs. Smith of Connecticut avenue, left last week to spend the winter in Germany.

The Misses Annie and Gertrude Yeabower of Mount Pleasant left last week to spend some time at the exposition and other places in the south.

Mrs. Ella S. Knight, past president of the Ladies' Union Veteran Legion Auxiliary, No. 32, has left the city for a few weeks' visit with her daughter, Mrs. F. G. Aubrey of New York city.

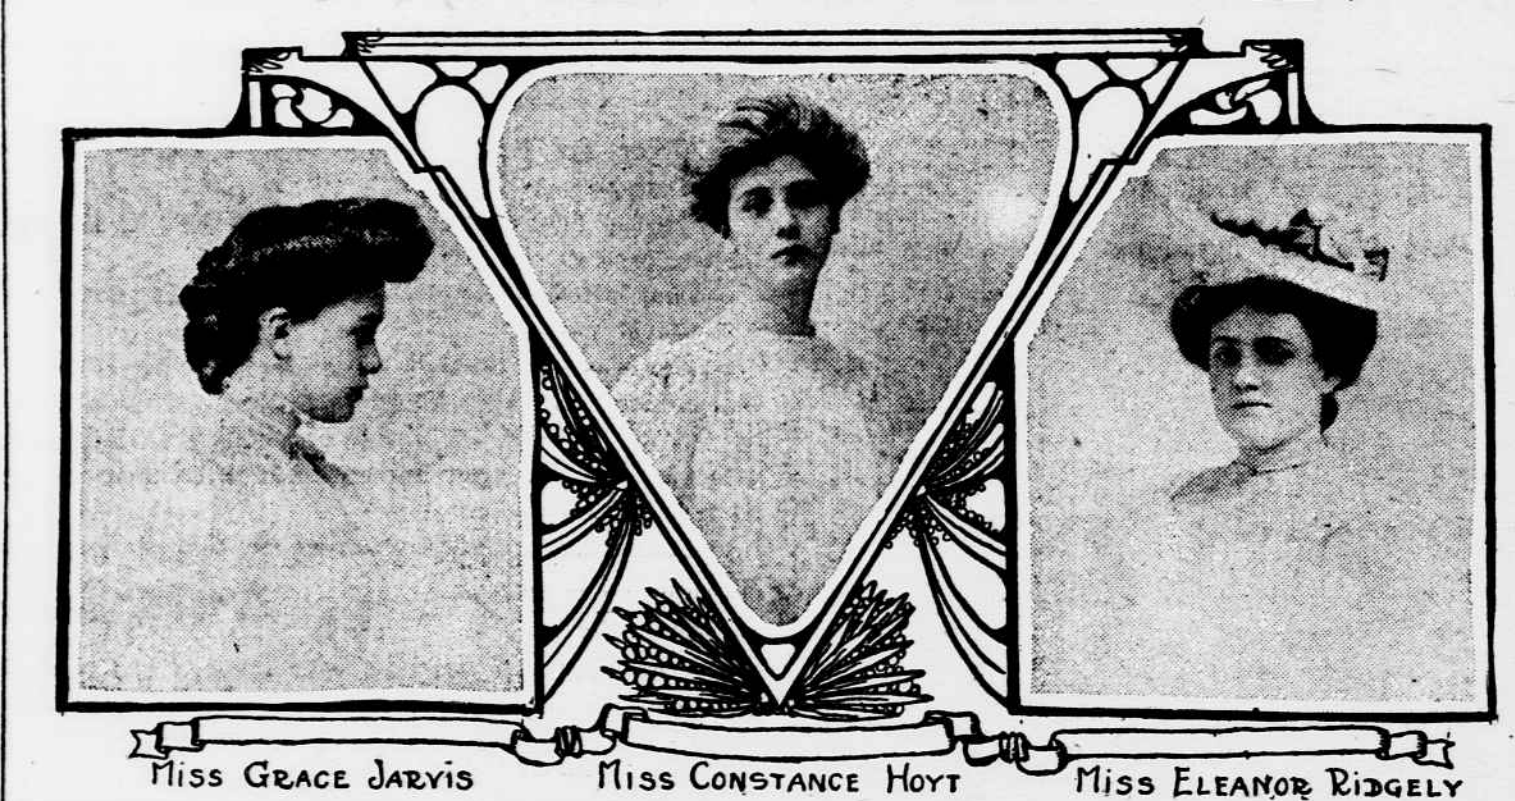

Dr. and Mrs. Elmer Slayton Newton have taken an apartment in the Ontario. Mrs. Newton's mother, Mrs. Mary L. Towne, who has been ill for the past four weeks, is now with her. Although she is still confined to her bed, she is improving slowly.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Spitzer and their daughter have returned from the Blue Ridge mountains, after spending the summer.

good voice, which has received the best culture. The wedding is likely to take place at the Breakers at Newport, where Mrs. Vanderbilt and her daughter and Count Schechenyi are now staying.

Before leaving for the Mexican trip with her parents Miss Root made a visit in New York with Mrs. Frederick Dent Grant, her prospective mother-in-law. Shopping formed a large part of the affairs which pressed upon Miss Root several weeks before coming here, as the preparations for her marriage to Lieut. U. S. Grant are so well under way that the finishing touches will be all that will be necessary upon her return to this city, where the ceremony is to occur. The date, which is near Thanksgiving, has also been settled upon, but will not be announced until probably after the return of the Secretary and his wife and daughter from Mexico.

The invitations have been sent out for the marriage of Miss Mabel Merriam of Washington to Mr. John Wheelwright of Boston at St. John's Church at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, October 19. A reception will follow at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Merriam, on 16th street. The maid of honor will be Miss Laura Beatrice Merriam, younger sister of the bride, and the groom's brother, Mr. Edward Wheelwright of Boston, will be best man. Miss Merriam was born in Minnesota, of which state her father was at one time governor, but she has spent the greater part of her life in this city. She is a granddaughter of Col. and Mrs. Scott Hancock. She comes of a family not only distinguished for its valor and patriotism, but also for the beauty of its women. Her aunt, all of whom are noted for their handsome appearance, are Mrs. Frank Mitchell of Washington, who will spend the winter in the Dewey house, which Mr. Mitchell has leased; Mrs. James C. Bishop of New York and Mrs. Eugene Griffen, widow of Gen. Griffen of New York and Boston.

Society at Greensburg, Pa., is looking forward with pleasure to the marriage to be celebrated on October 12 at Christ Church of Miss Carolyn Burrill Huff and Mr. Murray Addison Cobb. The ceremony will be followed by a breakfast at Cabin Hill, the summer home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Huff. The ceremony will take place at 12:30 o'clock. Miss Georgette West of Edgewood Park will serve as maid of honor and the other attendants will be the Misses Eleanor and Elizabeth Huff, the daughters of Col. Lloyd B. Huff of Greensburg, as bridesmaids; Anthony Addison of Washington, D. C., uncle of the groom, as best man, and eight ushers: Julian Huff and Burrill Huff, brothers of the bride; Dr. J. Breckenridge Bayne, Lieut. John Hudson Ponder, Randall Hagener, William H. Merriam, Hilliard Owen and Dr. William D. Owens. Representative and Mrs. Huff will entertain a large house party previous to the wedding, among whom will be Mrs. Fleming Newbold and Miss Grace Bell of Washington, Miss Caroline Boeling of Greenwood, Va., and Miss Harriet Sabin of Williamsport, Mass.

Fortunately Miss Ridgely has chosen a church ceremony for her marriage to Mr. Phelps Brown and the Covenant will be none too large to accommodate their friends at noon of Thursday, October 24. The decorations will be in the style of the event, the bride's debutante sister to attend her as maid of honor and her future sister-in-law, Miss Gertrude Brown, and Miss Williams of Chicago as bridesmaids. Both these young women will be brides themselves in the near future.

A decoration somewhat out of the ordinary in the east, but quite common in California, marked a recent Pittsburg wedding supper. The dining room was framed to resemble an arbor and natural grapes were suspended in appropriate profusion.

Mr. Thomas Eastwood, a house guest at Mr. Frazier's, having been previously informed, had the spacious parlor and halls beautifully decorated with potted plants and cut flowers and the floors waxed. Vocal selections were given by Mr. Thomas Eastwood, violin solos by Mr. Samuel Masson and piano selections by Miss Gertrude Tolson. Mr. Charles Roper's fine graphophone was enjoyed by all. The orchestra, which was almost hidden in a bower of ferns and palms, then struck up a lively strain and the guests danced until midnight, when a collation was served in attractive style. The color scheme of red and white was tastefully carried out in the ices, cakes and confections, aided by the red shades of the candelabra and the beautiful centerpiece of red and white dahlias. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Marion Frazier, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roper, Mr. and Mrs. Frazier of Washington, Messrs. James G. Edeion, R. Irving Catlin, Chris Werner, T. E. Davis, William Wilkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Funnell and baby Irving, Misses Mar-

A pretty home wedding was celebrated Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of the bride, 816 Massachusetts avenue northwest, when Miss Claudia Josephine Sadler, daughter of Mrs. M. J. Gregg, was married to Mr. Thomas Ebert Burgess, the Rev. G. F. Peter of the Episcopal Church officiating. The parlor was decorated profusely with palms, ferns and cut flowers, pink being the prevailing color. Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" was rendered before the ceremony by Miss Canfield. Miss Alma E. Sadler, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Mr. Percy Given was best man. The bride was gowned in white marquisette over tulle and chiffon. The veil was held with orange blossoms and carried with a diamond tiara. She carried a shower bouquet of Golden Gate roses. The maid of honor wore pink crepe de chine and carried pink roses. Mr. F. M. Molkov, star of the bride, and herself a bride of a few months, was maid of honor. She was gowned in light blue crepe de chine. After the ceremony a reception was held and a buffet supper served.

The bride wore an apricot broadcloth tailor suit and hat to match. They will be at home to their friends after the 1st of November at 1317 Madison avenue, where Mrs. Burgess will be at home to her friends.

Those for whom the party was given were the father of Beal, aged sixty years; Miss Doris Beal, aged eleven, and Miss Hester Beal, aged three. The table was beautifully decorated with ferns and cut flowers, the colors being red, white and yellow. The three customary birthday cakes were served, and the guests sang songs and recited poems.
